What makes a Party ?

After a very busy summer travelling to different corners of Europe to partake in a variety of different Harley Davidson 100th Anniversary rallies and Chapter based events I would like to raise the question "What makes a Party".

Chapter events, like the Harley Cruise to Norway, follow a fairly set format of ride out's, evening eating and drinking (often with entertainment organised) and visiting sights and places of interest whilst in a foreign land. To me this formula is very successful and most people I speak to would only change it by extending the amount of riding involved to take in more of the place/country they were visiting. Rallies on the other hand are a different kettle of fish altogether. Every Rally has it's flag waver's and it's critics, this is obviously because each individual has his/her likes and dislikes in terms of entertainment, facilities, stalls etc. The two major 100th Anniversary Rallies in Barcelona and Hamburg could not have been further apart in their respective formats, but each had many merits to commend them.

So what do you think makes a great rally or trip ? Send me an email to editor@geordiehog.com or a letter (leave at the shop) with your ideas. The best letters will be published in the next HOTT with a £25 JH voucher for the top spot.
